The image shows the musical notation for the ending of the song 'The Rose Tree'. It consists of a vocal line and a piano accompaniment. The vocal line is written on a single staff with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat). It begins with a measure of whole rest, followed by four measures of quarter notes, and ends with a double bar line. The piano accompaniment is written on three staves (Tenor, Alto, and Bass). The Tenor staff has a whole rest in the first measure, followed by four measures of quarter notes, and ends with a double bar line. The Alto and Bass staves have whole rests in the first measure, followed by four measures of quarter notes, and end with a double bar line. Above the vocal staff, there are five measures of lyrics: 'N.C.', 'N.C.', 'N.C.', 'N.C.', and 'D.S.S. to Coda'. Above the piano staves, there are five measures of lyrics: 'D.S.S. al Coda', 'N.C.', and 'N.C.'.

The image shows a musical score for guitar and voice. The guitar part is written for two guitars, Gtr I and Gtr II, each with a standard six-string tuning (E, A, D, G, B, E). The voice part is written for a soprano or alto voice, with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The score is divided into two systems. The first system has a measure number '10' at the beginning. The guitar parts feature a complex, fast-paced melody with many sixteenth and thirty-second notes, often beamed together. The voice part has a melody that follows the general contour of the guitar melody but is more melodic and easier to sing. The second system continues the same musical ideas. The guitar parts have a lot of fretting, indicated by numbers on the strings. The voice part has a more relaxed feel, with longer note values and rests.
